Paul McCartney in His Own Words Paul McCartney

In interviews ranging from 1968 to 2009, Paul McCartney talks about touring the UK with Wings (which was then a new band), a mid70s offer to reform the Beatles, the early days of the Beatles, and their final breakup. He also discusses his solo albums, receiving the freedom of the City of Liverpool, Christmas with his family, his love of music, and his career since the breakup of the Beatles up to 2009. BBC Archive Voices: shining a light on the icons of our time. BBC Archive Voices features interviews with some of the key figures from the fields of entertainment, sport, politics, and literature many of which haven't been heard since their original transmission. This is a unique window into the past and is a chance for us to hear those who contributed to the richness of our cultural heritage. With access to the entire archive of BBC Radio and television, we can now witness some of the most lively, entertaining, and informative encounters in BBC broadcasting. Due to the age and nature of this archive material, the sound quality may vary.
