Encountering Genocide: Personal Accounts from Victims, Perpetrators, and Witnesses Paul R. Bartrop

Cutting-edge in its scope and approach, this unique volume offers first-person accounts of modern genocides to enable readers to more fully examine genocidal experiences and better understand the horror of such events.

- Examines 10 modern genocides that occurred between 1904 and 2004
- Conveys the story of each genocide through primary source documents that detail historical and contemporary contexts
- Addresses not only the reality of modern genocides but also the consequences and impact on individuals
- Challenges the readers to look more carefully into the historic details of the genocide under discussion, fostering critical thinking and research
- Enables students and other readers to empathize more directly with the reality of massive human rights violations
