From Boardroom to Whiteboard Phillip V. Lewis

New winds are blowing across the face of organizational life—business, education, religion, and government. As a current or aspiring leader, you must be aware of the direction and force of that wind. You must recognize the dangers, maintain balance, and discover how to transform organizations and followers into productive entities and people. You must lead with integrity and skill. To do so, a revolution in organizational thinking and modeling is needed. Organizations must be flexible, porous, adaptive, and fleet-of-foot. Every person is expected to hustle, chart new courses, and be engaged fully with swift, stimulating actions—constantly improving everything. Because of so many changes and new expectations, it is necessary for all leaders to reevaluate their skills. Phillip V. Lewis takes today's leaders to the new basics, addressing leadership traits and styles, the challenges currently being faced, and the strategies essential to effective leadership in a constantly changing world. Personal experiences, examples from major companies, and extensive research make ideas and methods of implementation clear so you can start changing the game immediately. Revolutionary changes are occurring in the world today that will forever alter the way leaders meet the needs of their followers and stakeholders. You must question the status quo and dare to change or become obsolete. You must go From Boardroom to Whiteboard.

David Hosford:

As a pupil exactly feel bored to reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library in order to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just small students that has reading's heart and soul or real their passion. They just do what the professor want, like asked to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading really. Any students feel that examining is not important, boring in addition to can't see colorful pictures on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs. As we know that on this period, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore , this From Boardroom to Whiteboard can make you truly feel more interested to read.
